

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Learning is ... a lifetime project!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can ask for somebody's opinion.
- I can make and respond to requests.

Ask your partner:

- Do you feel people are prepared to start work when they finish school? Why or why not?
- What about you?

Let's Explore!

Carl is one of Sally's colleagues. He is giving her some advice.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hello, I'm Sally. I'm a new freelance journalist with Cambridge Life.
Carl: Welcome to the team. I'm Carl. I'm also a freelance journalist.
Sally: Could I ask you a few questions?
Carl: Absolutely. Go ahead.
Sally: In your opinion, how many articles should I write every month?
Carl: I would say about two articles a week. It's great to have control over our work hours, but it's important to respect deadlines.
Sally: Could you explain how you choose topics for articles?
Carl: It would be my pleasure. I talk to people about different things. People love to give their opinions. Ask them questions like, What issues are important to you now? Or, tell me about something you found surprising or interesting.
Sally: What is your view on additional training?
Carl: Extra training is always a good idea. There is often a difference between what you learn in college and and what you need to know at work. That's called the skills gap.
Sally: Cool, thanks for the suggestions!

Let's Practice!

Sally learns about her new job.

Instructions: Choose the correct answer.

1. Sally is a freelance journalist. This means ...

- ☐ she works when she is free.
- ☐ she works every day from 9:00 to 5:00.
- ☐ she is in control of her work hours.

3. Carl chooses the topics for his articles ...

- ☐ by respecting deadlines.
- ☐ by asking questions.
- ☐ by watching TV.

2. Carl thinks Sally should write ...

- ☐ two articles a week.
- ☐ two articles a month.
- ☐ two articles in each issue.

4. Carl's opinion on extra training is ...

- ☐ it's important, because of the skills gap.
- ☐ it's not a good thing, because it means overtime.
- ☐ it depends on the situation.

Let's Practice!

Can I have your opinion?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

In your opinion,

What is your view

Can I have your thoughts

In your opinion,

What do you think about how many articles should I write every month?

on working overtime?

working in advertising?

on additional training?

is it a good idea to ask for more money?

Extension Activity

Find out people's opinions on the skills gap.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Talk to 5 people about the idea of "the skills gap". Do they think it's a reality? Is it a problem?
- Ask for reasons.
- Write a short paragraph summarizing people's opinions about the skills gap.
- Read your paragraph aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk to 5 people.

☐ ☐

I ask for opinions.

☐ ☐

I write a paragraph of 40 - 50 words.

☐ ☐

I read the paragraph aloud.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- journalist (noun): a person who communicates factual information to the public in different ways
e.g. I'm a new freelance journalist with Cambridge Life.
- article (noun): a factual text appearing in a newspaper or magazine
e.g. How many articles should I write every month?
- skills gap (noun): the difference between what a person learned in school compared with what they need to learn for a job
Example: The skills gap is a major concern for today's young people.
- deadline (noun): the last moment you can do something, like submit an assignment
Example: It's very important to respect the deadlines.
- topic (noun): the subject of a text, article, speech, discussion, etc.
e.g. How do you choose topics for articles?
- to respect (verb): to meet; to follow
Example: It's important to respect deadlines.

Learning Points

Asking for Somebody's Opinion

You can use the following phrases to ask somebody's opinion:

In your opinion, is it a good idea to ... ?
 What is your view on ... ?
 What do you think about ... ?
 What's your opinion on ... ?
 Can I have your thoughts on ... ?

Examples:

- Sally: What is your view on additional training?
- In your opinion, how many articles should I write every month?

Making and Responding to Requests

It's important to be polite when you ask for something or respond to requests.

Making a Request	Responding to a Request
Can you ... ? Could you ... ? Will you ... ? Would you mind ... ?	Sure, here you are. Yes, I'd love to! Absolutely. Go ahead. It would be my pleasure.

Examples:

- Sally: Could I ask you a few questions?
- Carl: Absolutely. Go ahead.
- Sally: Could you explain how you choose topics for articles?
- Carl: It would be my pleasure.

