Let's Start!

Here's how you do it!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can make and respond to requests.
- I can give and understand instructions.

Ask your partner:

- What machines do you commonly use at work?
- Are they easy or hard to use?
- What are some problems you have with those machines?

Let's Explore!

Sally needs help with the photocopier. Sound familiar?

* The expression "sound familiar?" means that this is a situation many people experience.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Ken: Hi Sally! How's it going?

Sally: Hi Ken. Things are going well.

Ken: Is there anything you need help with?

Sally: I'm having a hard time using the photocopier. Would you mind showing me how to use it?

Ken: Sure, no problem. First, let's make sure the photocopier is turned on. You turn it on with this button here.

Sally: I see.

Ken: Then, you place the originals on the screen or above the cover. Next, you need to select the paper size and indicate how many copies you want on the control panel.

Sally: Got it.

Ken: After that, you push the start button here. Finally, you pick up the copies in this paper tray.

Sally: I understand. Could you tell me what to do if the paper gets jammed?

Ken: Of course. You have to open the machine like this. If you see a piece of paper, turn the knobs here to remove it. Don't pull, or it will tear the paper.

Sally: Thanks!

Let's Practice!

Sally gets to know the parts of the photocopier. Is it turned on?

Instructions: Draw a line from the word to the image.

? / to / the / jammed / gets / do / paper / Could / what / if / tell / you / me

Making and Responding to Requests

It's important to be polite when you ask for something or respond to requests.

Making a Request	Responding to a Request
Can you ... ?	Sure, no problem.
Could you ... ?	It would be my pleasure.
Will you ... ?	Of course, I'd be happy to.
Would you mind ... ?

Examples:

• Sally: Would you mind showing me how to use the photocopier?

Ken: Sure, no problem.

When you give instructions on how to do something, you use these words that show the order of actions:

First
Then
Next
After that Finally

To show you understand instructions, you can use these expressions:

OK, I understand
Perfect
Got it
Cool

Examples:

• Ken: First, let's make sure the photocopier is turned on. You turn it on with this button here.
