Let's Start!

My first job!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What was your first job like?
- Did you meet new people?
- What did you do?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can make and respond to requests.
- I can talk or report about actions, events or people.

Let's Explore!

How did Sally decorate her office? Let's find out!

* An "office" is a place you go to work.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hey Peter!
Peter: Hi Sally, what's new?
Sally: Well, I just had a training day at work.
Peter: Can you tell me what you had to do?
Sally: Sure. I learned a lot in the onboarding workshops the IT Department ran.
Peter: Did you have any problems with what they showed you?
Sally: Not really. Once I reviewed everything, I felt comfortable. I didn't run into any problems.
Peter: How's your work area?
Sally: I bought a plant for decoration.
Peter: That's it, just a plant?
Sally: Well, I was busy working on the surveys for my blog. Could you help me?
Peter: Of course, it would be my pleasure.
Sally: Would you mind asking your friends to answer a short questionnaire, too?
Peter: I can do that!
Sally: Super! The more responses, the better!
Peter: So, do you have a regular schedule?
Sally: As a freelancer, it depends on the day.
Peter: Are you able to chat again this weekend?
Sally: I would love to! I'll talk to you later.
Peter: OK, bye.

Let's Practice!

What is happening at Sally's office?

Instructions: Choose all the correct answers.

1. Which statements are true about Sally's office?

- ☐ She just had training at work.

Learning Points

Making and Responding to Requests

It's important to be polite when you ask for something or respond to requests.

You can make a request by using:

- Can you ...?
- Could you ...?
- Will you ...?
- Would you mind ...?

Examples:

- Sally: Would you mind asking your friends to answer a short questionnaire, too?
- Peter: Sure, I can do that!
